

Contact your teacher and class

If you have not yet done so please schedule a meeting with your teacher to discuss expectations/volunteer needs and ideas for the upcoming year; bearing in mind that your teacher may have other classroom-specific activities that will require your assistance.

After meeting with your teacher it is a good idea to introduce yourself to your parents via letter or email about your plans for the year. This will be a great way to solicit volunteers for various activities in which their assistance will be needed.

Sharing information,

Throughout the year, PTO will be sharing information with you, and we ask that you then pass the pertinent information onto the classroom parents! You really are the link between the PTO and classroom parents and we are so thankful!

Please include the parents that are willing to help in as many classroom activities and school-wide events as possible. The room parent is not expected to do everything or meet all the needs of the classroom. It should not be overwhelming or a financial stress.
